WORKERS FIRST CARAVAN FOR RACIAL + ECONOMIC JUSTICE

BURQUE CRUISE FOR ESSENTIAL WORKERS

When: Wednesday June 17th 2020
Arrive: 5:30pm
Where: Robinson Park at 8th and Central
Ride: 6pm

Essential working families are calling for the Albuquerque community to come out and join our Workers First Caravan. We are cruising in our caravan with a message.

- We want safer working conditions for all
- Paid Leave when placed in quarantine after exposed at work
- Compensated for the risks we take every day under COVID-19 (Hazard Pay).

Show your appreciation for our work, decorate your car, and cruise with us and make some noise.

Come thru, cruise with us to UNMH, route and map on back.

Working families from Albuquerque, NM will join thousands from across the country in a Workers First Caravan passing two of Albuquerque's largest hospitals, in an all-out action of national solidarity calling for implementation of America's Five Economic Essentials and passage of the HEROES Act.

• Keep front-line workers safe and secure.
• Keep workers employed and protect earned pension checks.
• Keep state and local governments, our public schools and the U.S. Postal Service solvent and working.
• Keep America healthy—protect and expand health insurance for all workers.
• Keep America competitive—hire people to build infrastructure.

How can you show your appreciation?
Cruise with us in our Workers First Caravan to bring attention to essential workers needs for safe working conditions and fair compensation.

Kate Becker, UNMH CEO Just two days after UNMH workers picketed for PPE, safe working conditions and paid administrative leave when they are quarantined while Becker received her semi-annual bonus of $67,447.90.

CEO's don't need a bonus, especially during a pandemic. This is a mis-use of taxpayer money and we want Becker to give it back.

#giveitbackBecker

That's just not right! Tell the CEO and administrators that they need to give back their mega bonuses and provide their workers with safe working conditions and compensation that shows that they are valued as much as you all in the community value them. #GiveItBackBecker

Call your Senator and tell them to push to pass the Heroes Act
